11/3-Wild idea, and I have no agent, and I'll be making an effort elsewhere, but I've just finished about 6,000 words of a proposed statement to Sen. Jud. vs Powell only partly indicated in WW 77. I do not think they will find it welcome. It should appear in some form because it says much about the concern of the top bar brass on the most elemental legal rights and the futility of any, even white, unpopular defendant expecting anything. If it is used i it will be public domain. But it may be and be ignored and it may not be. Does Ramparts pay anything at all? Dpes anyone read it any mor more? I'll be sending you a copy.
